Gina Marín

Art, research & shared practice

Complete portfolio | October 2026

Copenhagen, Denmark

ginamicam@gmail.com

Full online portfolio ↗

Human Warmth, 2026 | Installation by Gina Marín

A practice in dialogue

I am an artist and creative practitioner from Argentina, based in Copenhagen. My practice grows through the dialogue between artistic research, cultural production and visual communication. I work with bodies, images and materials, connecting hands-on experimentation with collaboration and the conditions that make participation possible.

01 / Art & Research

Body.Interface 4
Clinical Fold 5
Self Archive 6
Human Warmth 7
Body, Surface, and Pac… 8
Embodied Portals 9
Ribben 10
Rituals of Collective De… 11
The Poetics of the Colle… 12
Sovereign Skin Politics 13
Optical Pulse 14
Chromatic Body 15
Body Interface 16
Conversations with Tec… 17
IN_Reflections 18
IN_Deterritory 19
IN_Footprints 20
IN_Bodily Resonance 21
IN_Metamorphic Plane 22
Yellow Poison Land 23
Fibrous Flesh 24
Modus Androginus 25

02 / Projects & Production

Care Lab 27
Illutron 28
Blindmotion 29
They Do Not Save Life… 30
Atmosphere Collective 31
Women and LGTBIQ+ Altar 32
Trace / The Great Glass 33
Trifolium / Impact 34
Enter Art Fair 35

03 / Design & Communication

Morhaven Retreats 37
EMUN 38
Techno Piling 39

01

Art & Research

22 projects

My artistic practice asks how bodies, images and technologies shape the ways we experience ourselves and relate to others. I work through drawing, printmaking, photographic performance, poetry and installation, developing ideas through material experiments and encounters with people.

In Body.Interface, performance and image-making explore bodily presence in digital environments. Human Warmth translates the visual language of clinical equipment into a sculpture about care, while Care Lab invites visitors to reflect, label and print their responses. Across these works, making and participation are ways of asking questions.

Body.Interface

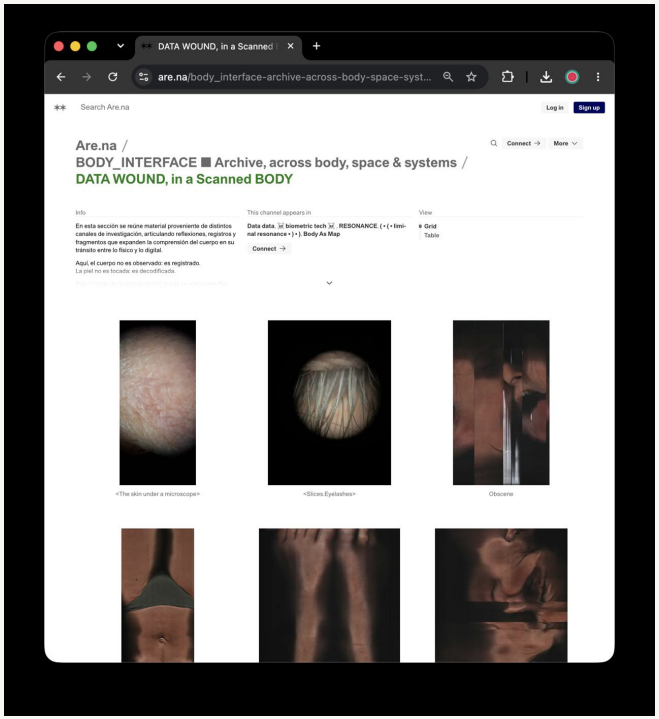

Universidad Nacional de Córdoba · 2025 · MA research

Artist & researcher

My MA research asks how bodily presence and personal agency can be sustained in digital life. Through performance, photography, drawing and printmaking, I treat the body as a meeting point for sensation, images and technical systems. Clinical Fold and Self Archive form its centre: one works with enclosure, the other with migration and everyday movement. An evolving Are.na archive extends the enquiry through connections between images and references.

Black-and-white montage from the thesis presentation, combining a body and its reflection with digital interface graphics

Body.Interface on Are.na · Data Wound, in a Scanned Body. Collected references retain their respective authorship.

Research and artworks: Gina Marín. Thesis adviser: Carolina Romano. Universidad Nacional de Córdoba. Clinical Fold photography, including the header montage: Florencia Aravena. Are.na references retain their respective authorship.

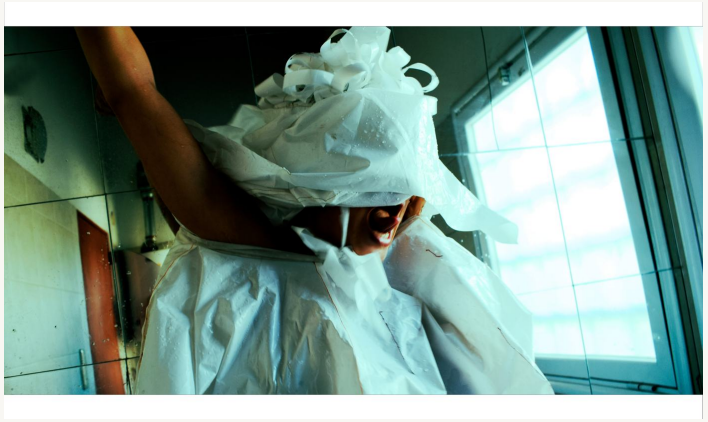

View full project & documentation ↗

Clinical Fold

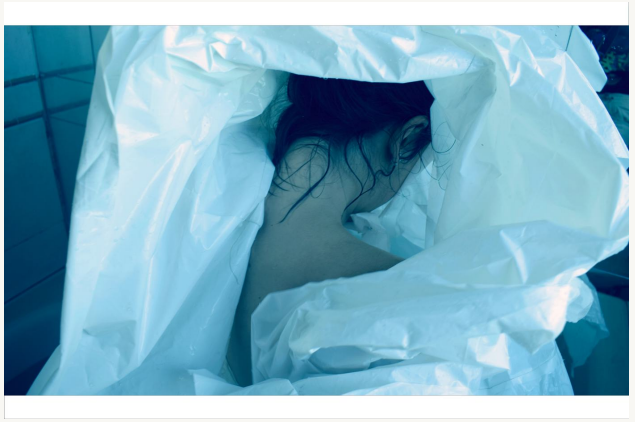

Córdoba, Argentina · 2021

Photo-performance artist & costume designer

A hand-sewn plastic costume covers the head and torso inside a confined bathroom of mirrors and water. I used butoh movement, slowness and small gestures to explore the tension between protection and containment. Florencia Aravena photographed the performance; I developed the costume, performed and edited the images. Cold colour, brightness and white margins extend the bodily encounter into a photographic sequence.

Performance, costume and image editing: Gina Marín. Photography: Florencia Aravena.

Clinical Fold · Photography: Florencia Aravena; image editing: Gina Marín.

Performance, costume and image editing: Gina Marín. Photography: Florencia Aravena

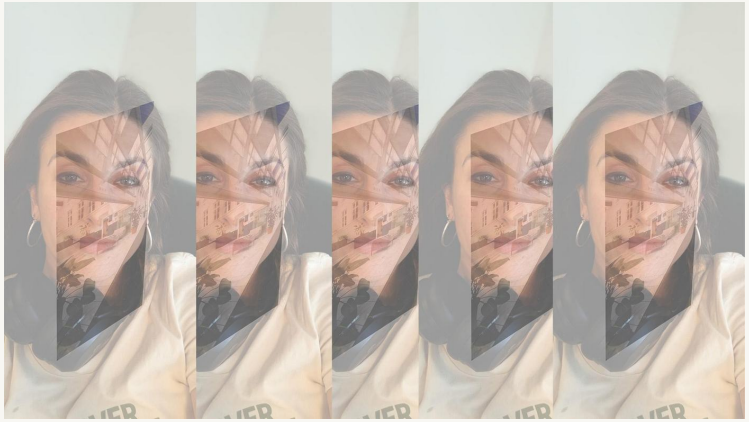

View full project & documentation ↗

Self Archive

Copenhagen, Denmark · 2025

Artist, photographer & image editor

Self Archive began as a daily photographic record of moving to Denmark. Repeated phone portraits register changes in attention, energy and belonging. I layered these images with windows, corridors and architecture encountered in Copenhagen, turning the vertical phone image into horizontal compositions. Repetition and transparency give everyday moments a shared rhythm, approaching identity as something shaped through language, movement and place.

A horizontal sequence of overlapping self-portraits

Self Archive · Photography and montage: Gina Marín · 2025.

Photography, performance and montage: Gina Marín

View full project & documentation ↗

Human Warmth

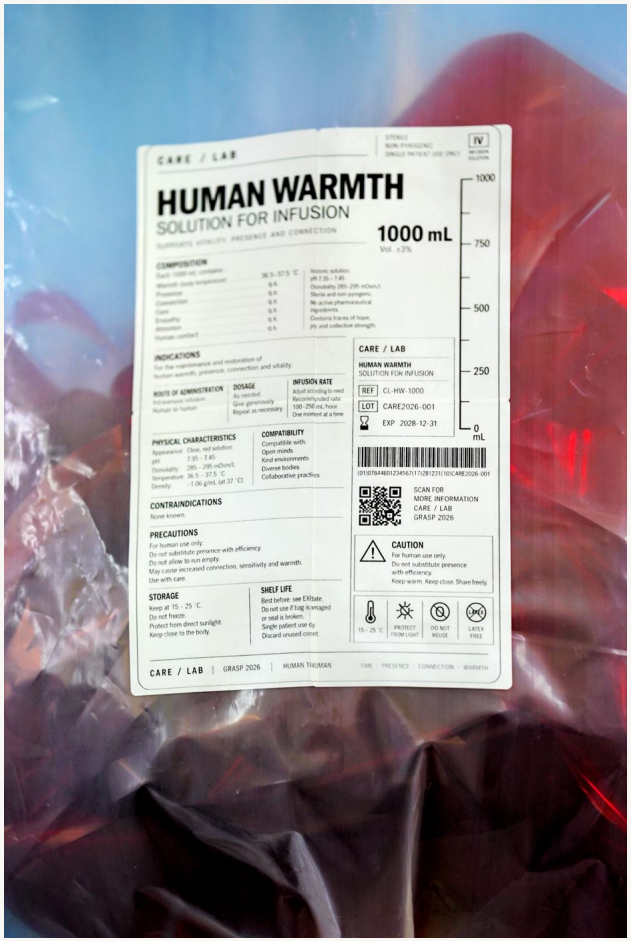

Care Lab · GRASP Festival · October 2026

Artist

An enlarged transparent infusion bag, red light and a printed clinical label turn a familiar medical object into a sculpture about care. The label describes presence and connection as a solution to be shared: “Do not substitute presence with efficiency.” I developed the installation through material tests, prototyping and fabrication for Care Lab at GRASP Festival. Its clinical format asks what sustains us beyond a procedure.

Human Warmth, a transparent infusion-bag sculpture suspended against a blue wall

Detail of the Human Warmth label on the transparent bag

Artist: Gina Marín

View full project & documentation ↗

Body, Surface, and Packaging

2026 · Scanning, fragmentation & packaging

Artist & researcher

Scanning, fragmentation and packaging examine how bodily characteristics become measurable information. Original scans retain skin textures and interruptions, while packaging studies explore the tension between protection, classification and display. The research asks how we adapt our own images to systems that capture us. Installation visualisations extend the enquiry spatially; they are studies rather than documentation of a realised exhibition.

Installation visualisation | Study, not a realised exhibition

Original scan · Facial fragments I

Artist & researcher: Gina Marín. Collaboration: Mads Høbye

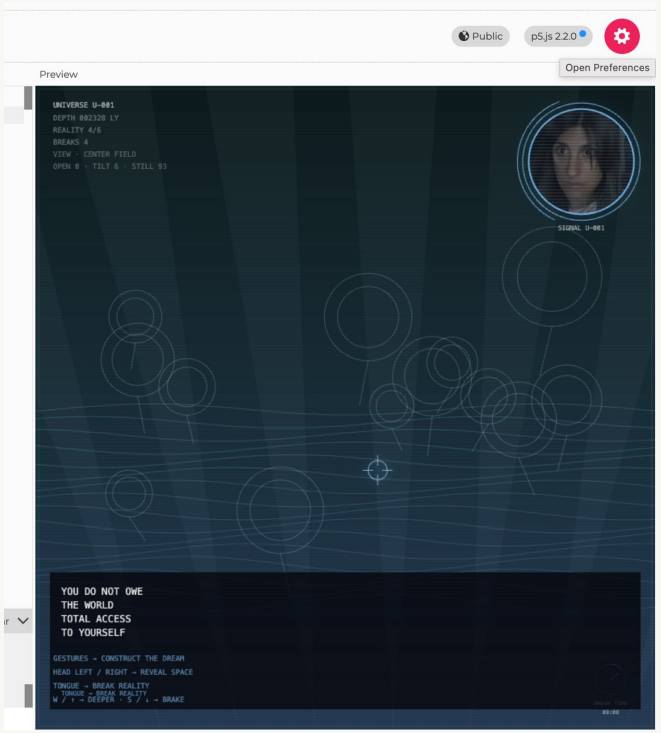

View full project & documentation ↗

Embodied Portals

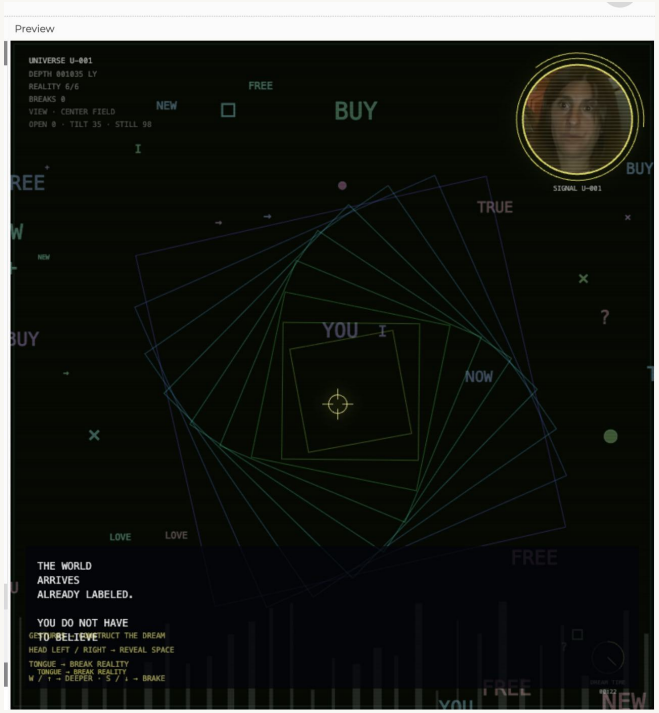

p5.js · Live computer vision · Ongoing exploration · 2026

Artist & researcher

I use p5.js, live computer vision and AI-assisted coding to sketch environments that respond to faces, gestures and changing positions. Describing an interaction, testing it with my body and revising the response form a continuous process. These ongoing prototypes extend Body.Interface through play, poetry and the limits of machine detection. The linked project page contains moving-image documentation.

Blue digital landscape of floating circles, with a live camera portrait framed by concentric rings

Face Galaxy / Dream Reality Machine · Another state

Artistic concept and experiments: Gina Marín

View full project & documentation ↗

Ribben: The Resonance Circle

Nørrebros Runddel · Copenhagen · 2026 · Competition proposal

Co-artist and concept development with Gina Mobilia

Developed with Gina Mobilia, this competition proposal imagines an open circle of eight corten-steel ribs at Nørrebros Runddel. Taking the ribcage as a starting point, the sculpture would offer protection without enclosure and room for gathering, readings and collective action. Care becomes a shared responsibility expressed through public space. The work is a proposal, not a realised installation; the image is a concept visualisation.

Concept visualization of the proposed sculpture. Not a realised installation.

Artistic concept and proposal: Gina Micaela Marín and Gina Mobilia

View full project & documentation ↗

Rituals of Collective Descent

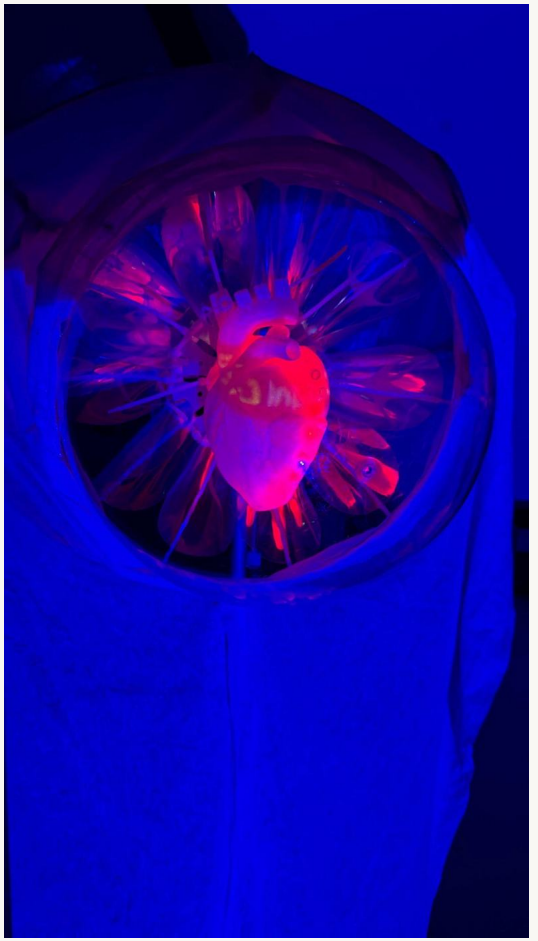

Xplore Festival · Berlin · 2026

Co-creator, performer, poetry reader & installation maker

For Rituals of Collective Descent at Xplore Festival, I contributed as co-creator, performer and reader of original poetry. I also made the interactive monster that greeted visitors. A translucent body, illuminated circular face and projected imagery gave the installation a character to encounter on arrival, connecting material construction with the shared experience of entering a performance space.

Interactive monster with a glowing circular face in the red-lit installation

Close-up of the monster’s illuminated heart-shaped centre surrounded by translucent forms in blue and pink light

Co-creation, performance, poetry and interactive monster: Gina Marín. Artists listed in the festival programme: Anso Vela, Jac Fabian, Max and Axel-Camilla Barratt-Due

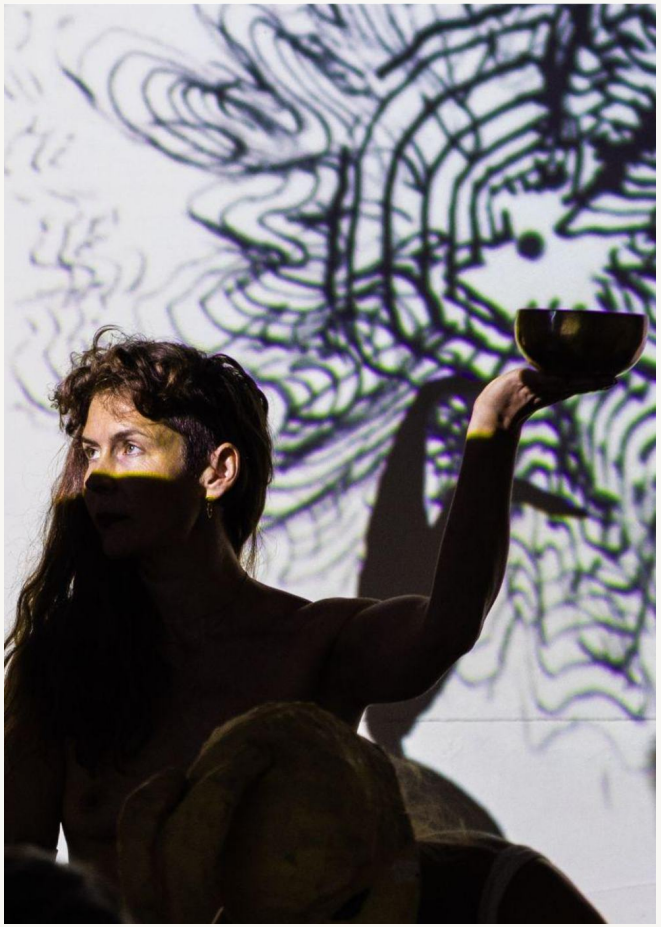

View full project & documentation ↗

The Poetics of the Collective

House of Play · Copenhagen · 14-15 March 2026

Co-creator, performer & poetry reader

A 24-hour collective experiment at House of Play brought music, movement, meals, rest and everyday tasks into an unfolding performance. I contributed as co-creator, performer and reader of original poetry. Participants moved between observing and contributing, allowing individual gestures to develop into shared scenes. Consent, personal boundaries and responsibility for one another shaped the setting.

A performer holding a bowl in front of projected patterns at The Poetics of the Collective | Photography: Jacob Stage

The Poetics of the Collective · House of Play · 14-15 March 2026 | Photography: Jacob Stage

Artistic direction: Anso, Anitta and Mads. Collective creation: House of Play Playlab group. Co-creation, performance and original poetry: Gina Marín. Photography: Jacob Stage.

View full project & documentation ↗

The Revolution of Sovereign Skin Politics

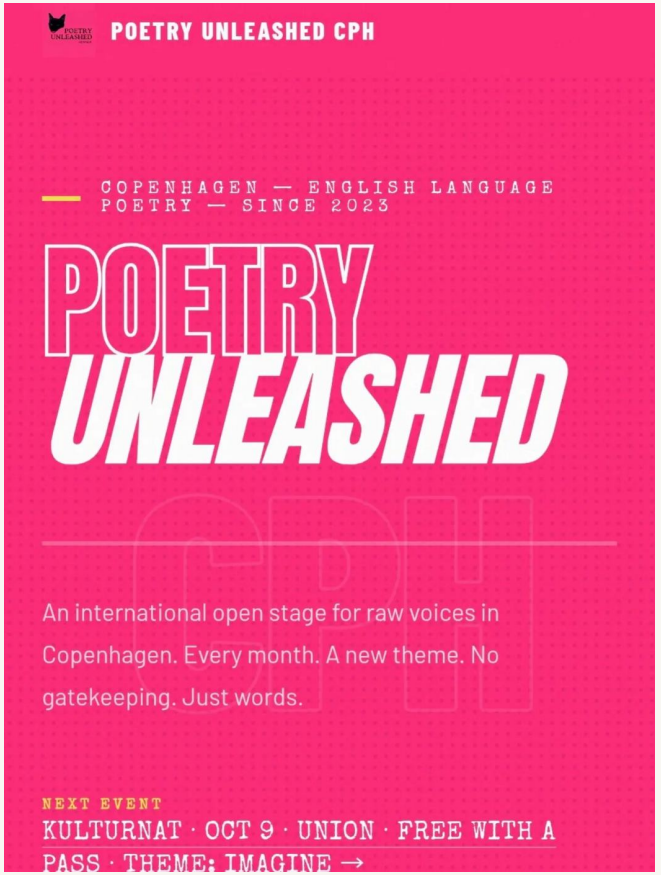

Poetry Unleashed CPH · Kulturnatten · Union, Copenhagen · 2026

Poet & spoken-word performer

My original poem was selected by Poetry Unleashed CPH for a Kulturnatten reading at Union. Performed with live jazz, it explores skin as a place of sensation, memory and connection. Voice, breath and rhythm bring the text into a shared space, imagining sovereignty through bodies and their relationships rather than through isolation.

Gina Marín reading her poem into a microphone on stage | Photo: @zoia.means.life

Poetry Unleashed CPH · Event poster

Poem and reading: Gina Marín. Selection and event organisation: Poetry Unleashed CPH. Performance photograph: @zoia.means.life

View full project & documentation ↗

Optical Pulse

2018-2024 · Artwork series

Artist

Repetition, symmetry and the tension between line and surface generate a sense of movement. Developed through woodcut, painting and illustration, Optical Pulse approaches image-making as a negotiation between gesture, resistance and rhythm. My background in performance informs this enquiry: the rhythm of making meets the viewer’s shifting attention. Patterns organise perception while remaining open to ambiguity.

Kinetic Body | 2024 | Ink on paper | 42 × 59.4 cm

Sea of Strings | 2018 | Ink on paper | 42 × 59.4 cm

Artist: Gina Marín

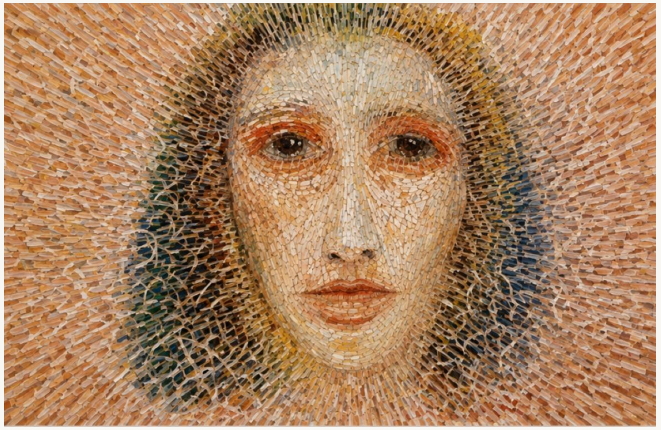

View full project & documentation ↗

Chromatic Body

2017-2024 · Artwork series

Artist

Chromatic Body brings colour and bodily imagery into a series of paintings and works on paper. Faces and figures emerge through layered marks, radiating shapes and shifting colour relationships. The selected works offer a concentrated view of the series, connecting an interest in bodily presence with the material and perceptual possibilities of image-making.

Inner Mirror | 2020 | Oil on canvas | 42 × 59.4 cm

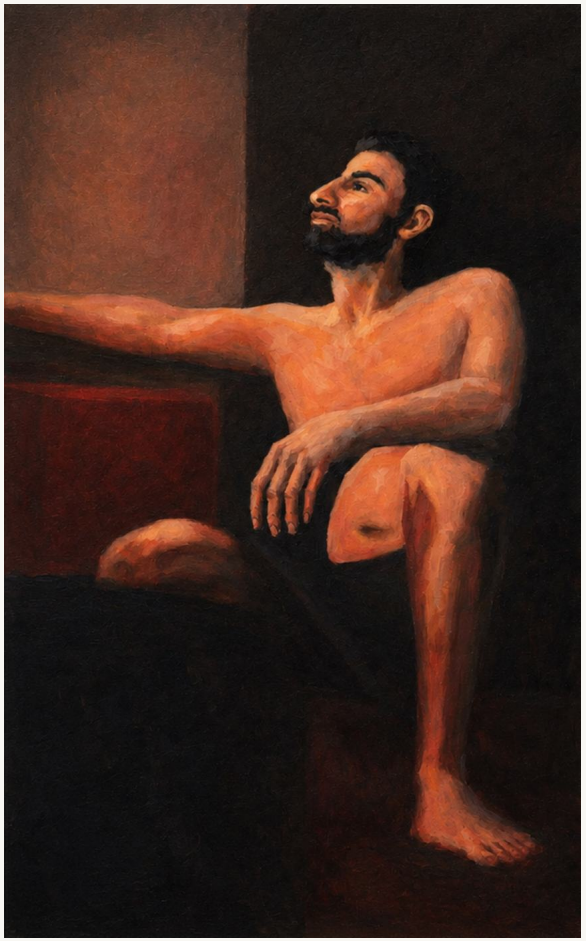

Figure Study | 2018 | Oil on canvas | 70 × 100 cm

Artist: Gina Marín

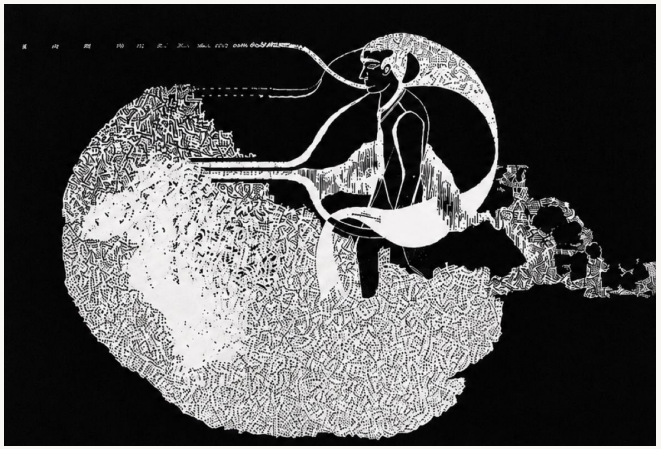

View full project & documentation ↗

Body Interface

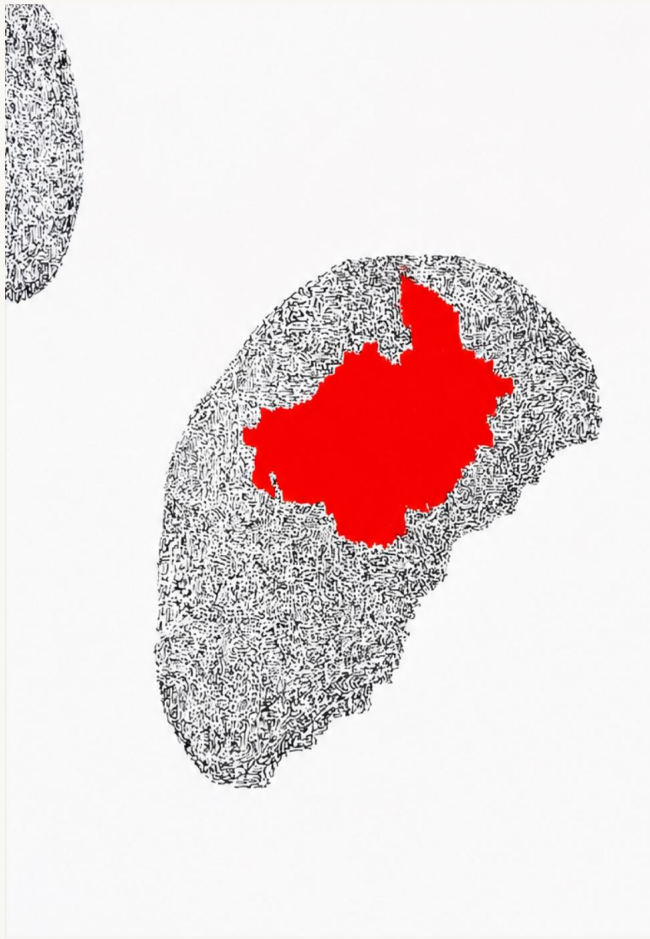

2017-2024 · Artwork series

Artist

This series gathers works on paper concerned with bodily fragments, graphic rhythms and relations between forms. Repeated marks and layered structures approach the body as a changing field rather than a fixed outline. Presented together, the selected pieces connect drawing and printmaking with the wider Body.Interface research into how bodies become images.

Flowing Systems I | 2018 | Ink on paper | 42 × 59.4 cm

Signal Fragment I | 2019 | Ink on paper | 42 × 59.4 cm

Artist: Gina Marín

View full project & documentation ↗

Conversations with Technology

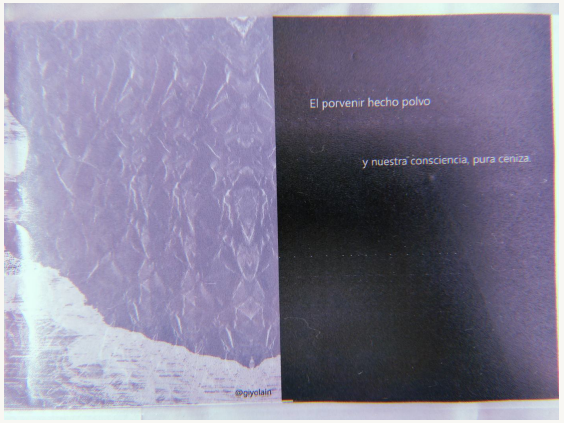

Artist publications and works on paper · 2019

Artist

Drawing, poetic writing and experimental publishing explore how mediation shapes identity, memory and emotional proximity. Dense marks and fragmented forms move between bodily sensation and abstract terrain. Repetition across printed copies brings an intimate gesture into shared circulation. Developed alongside my thesis research, the publications were presented at Copperweld, Experimental Editions Fair, Centro Cultural España Córdoba, on 30 November 2021.

Artist publications and cut-out figures with black linework and red accents

Drawing and poetic writing · 2019

Artist publications and works on paper: Gina Marín

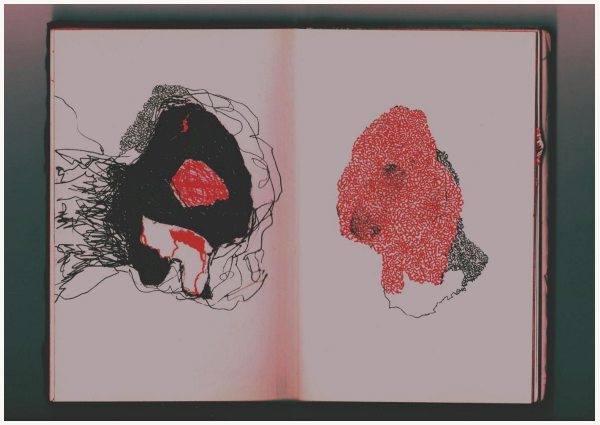

View full project & documentation ↗

IN_Reflections

Universidad Nacional de Córdoba · Argentina · 2019

Artist

IN_Reflections moves between a tactile mixed-media artist’s book and its digitally edited version. Drawn marks, layered paper and coloured fields create a sequence that can be handled and revisited. The project connects material experimentation with the changing experience of an image on screen, forming part of the earlier enquiries that developed into Body.Interface.

An open artist’s book with black and red graphic forms

IN_Reflections · Gina Marín · 2019

Artist: Gina Marín

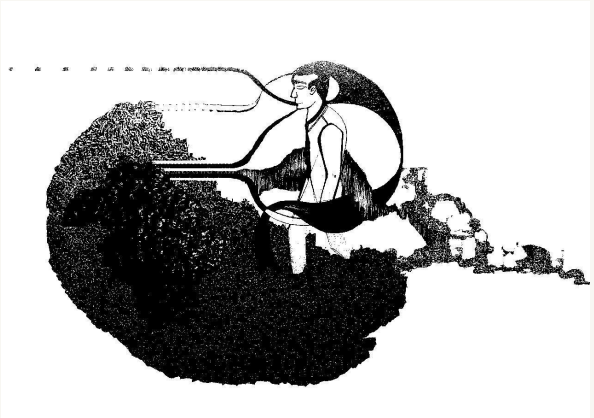

View full project & documentation ↗

IN_Deterritory

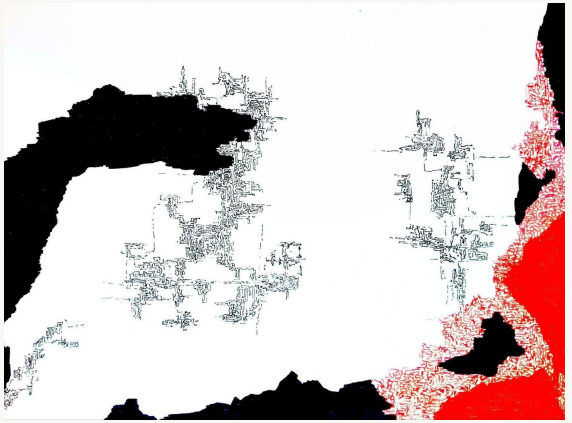

Universidad Nacional de Córdoba · Argentina · 2019

Artist

Ink drawings and digital variations ask how a body might inhabit a fluid, networked space. Repeated marks build fields in which figures emerge, fragment and merge with their surroundings. I exhibited this work in Oscillating Dialectics at Avellaneda Café in 2019 and contributed to the exhibition’s organisation and production, connecting drawing with the shared work of public presentation.

A seated figure emerging from dense black ink patterns

IN_Deterritory · Gina Marín · 2019

Artist: Gina Marín

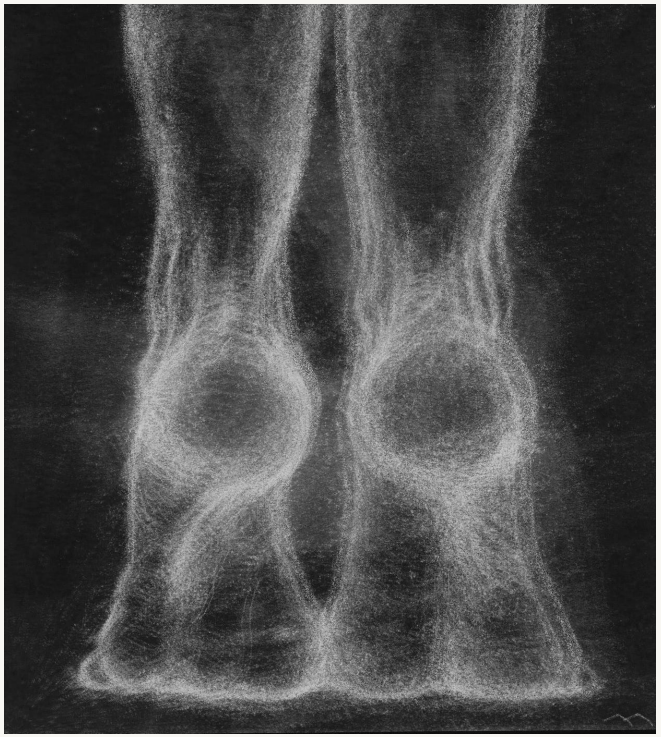

View full project & documentation ↗

IN_Footprints

Universidad Nacional de Córdoba · Argentina · 2019

Artist

Feet, weight and movement become material for a study that moves from photoperformance into drawing and digital layers. Bodily traces are translated across media, connecting physical gestures with the marks and images they leave behind. The work forms an earlier strand of the enquiry developed through Body.Interface.

Layered drawings of feet and ankles on a dark ground

IN_Footprints · Gina Marín · 2019

Artist: Gina Marín

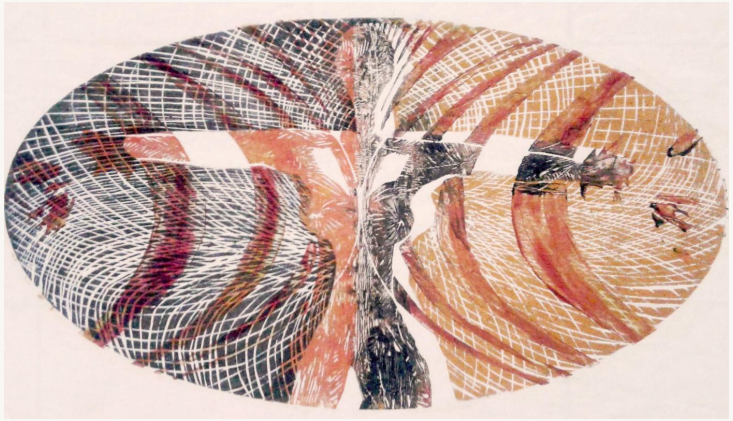

View full project & documentation ↗

IN_Bodily Resonance

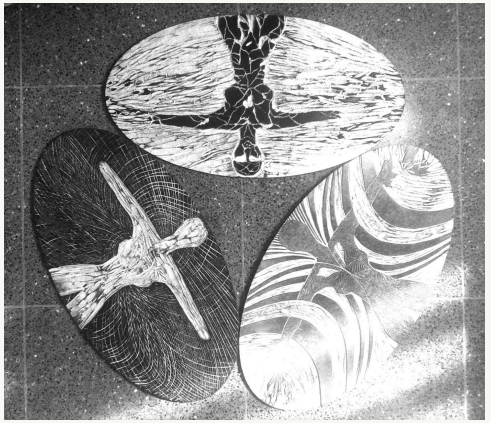

Universidad Nacional de Córdoba · Argentina · 2018

Artist

Carved wooden blocks, layers of colour and repeated bodily forms establish a rhythm through printmaking. The project brings the pressure and resistance of making into the image, allowing bodily presence to emerge through repeated impressions. It forms part of the material investigations that precede the Body.Interface thesis.

Layered coloured woodcut of an outstretched figure inside an ellipse

IN_Bodily Resonance · Gina Marín · 2018

Artist: Gina Marín

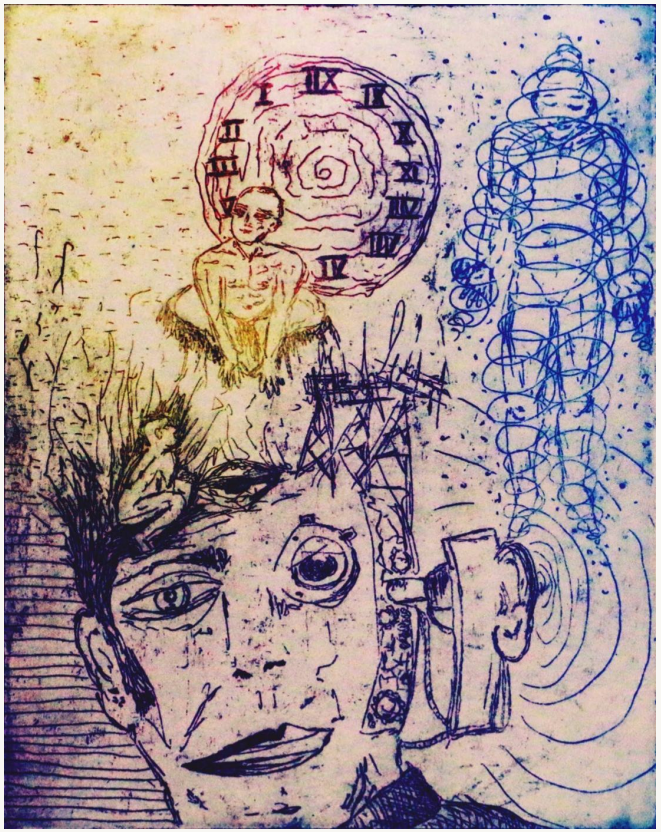

View full project & documentation ↗

IN_Metamorphic Plane

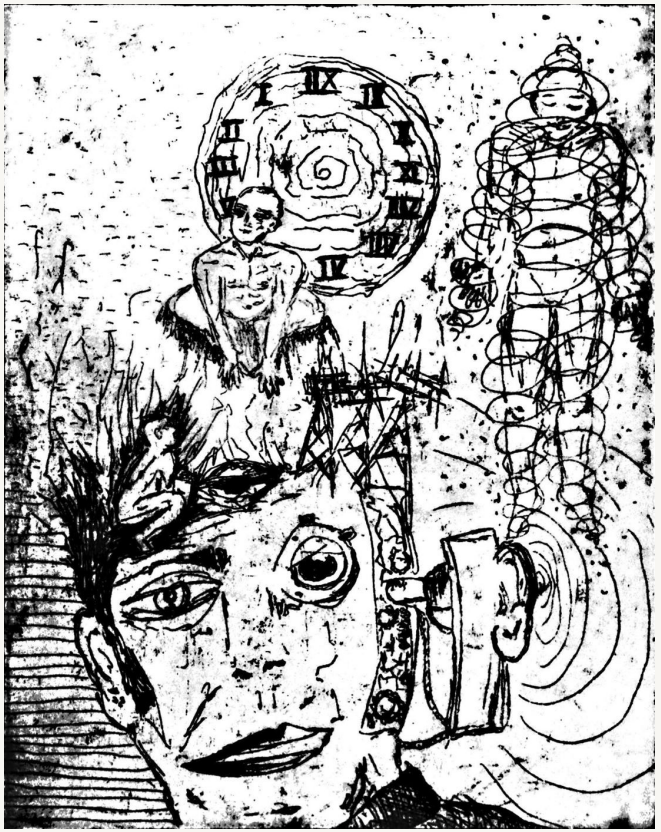

Universidad Nacional de Córdoba · Argentina · 2018

Artist

Etching and aquatint explore a body suspended between human, mechanical and imagined forms. The printed image becomes a place for transformation, connecting material processes with uncertainty about bodily boundaries. This earlier work contributes to the enquiry into bodily representation developed through Body.Interface.

A coloured print combining faces, mechanical forms and wave-like lines

IN_Metamorphic Plane · Gina Marín · 2018

Artist: Gina Marín

View full project & documentation ↗

Yellow Poison Land

Collaborative photographic project · 2019

Co-creator

A collaborative photographic project uses myth to examine ecological violence and the desire to possess the living world. In its fictional narrative, humans poison the habitat of nymphs out of envy, leaving sunflowers as their final vision. Figures and flowers share the image, connecting beauty with the rupture of coexistence. Co-created with Lenna Aravena and Catalina within Atmosphere Collective.

Figures among tall sunflowers in a field beneath an evening sky

Yellow Poison Land · 2019

Co-creation: Gina Marín, Lenna Aravena and Catalina

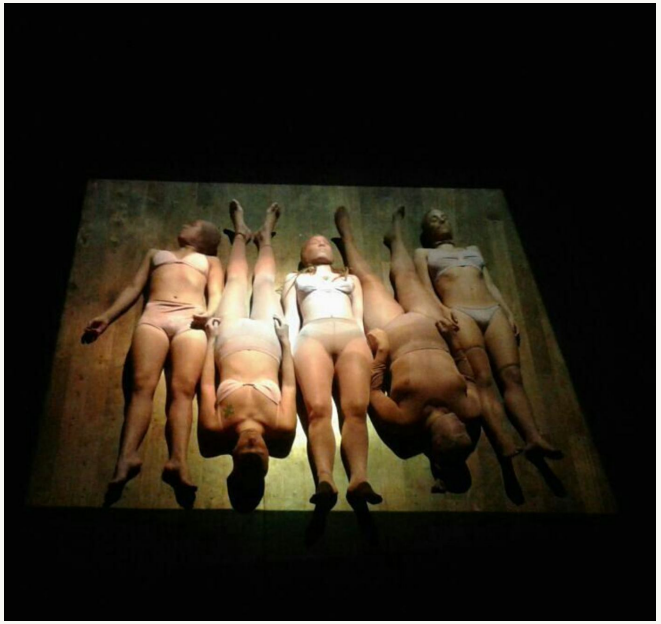

View full project & documentation ↗

Fibrous Flesh

CePIA · Faculty of Arts, Universidad Nacional de Córdoba · 2017

Co-creator

Still bodies arranged in alternating orientations form a repeated structure, between individual presence and apparent interchangeability. Light and projected imagery pass across their skin, examining how consumer culture shapes bodily identity. Stillness suggests both exhaustion and the possibility of withholding participation. Co-created with Angeles Torino, Yoseli Leiva, Lenna Aravena and Jazmin Lopez, the work was presented at CePIA, Universidad Nacional de Córdoba.

Five still performers arranged in alternating orientations under warm projected light

Fibrous Flesh · CEPIA · 2017

Co-creation: Gina Marín, Angeles Torino, Yoseli Leiva, Lenna Aravena, and Jazmin Lopez

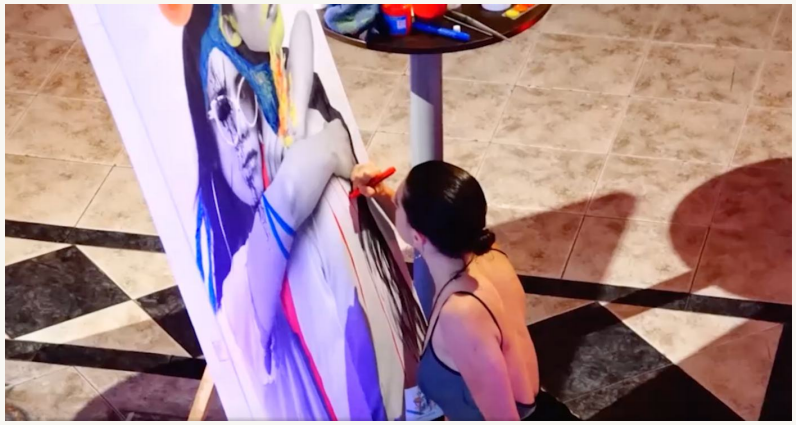

View full project & documentation ↗

Modus Androginus

Studio Teatro · Córdoba, Argentina · 2019

Performance artist

At Studio Teatro, I took part as a performance artist within Atmosphere Collective. The contribution combined visual production, live painting and performance in a runway setting. The photographs document the collective work and its making, connecting bodily presence with images produced during a live event.

Live painting on a tall illustrated panel during Modus Androginus

Close view of live painting at Modus Androginus

Performance contribution: Gina Marín with Atmosphere Collective. Venue: Studio Teatro, Córdoba

View full project & documentation ↗

02

Projects & Production

9 projects

I help turn artistic ideas into projects people can take part in. Working with artists, organisers and community groups, I contribute to planning, preparing spaces, coordinating activities and welcoming participants. My experience spans exhibition installation, festival operations, collaborative workshops and accessible learning materials.

I pay attention to the conditions that make participation possible: clear information, shared responsibilities and room for different needs. This connects my work with Atmosphere Collective, community activities at Illutron and inclusive programmes with Blindmotion.

Care Lab

GRASP Festival · Roskilde University · 2026

Co-developer, installation designer & facilitator

Care Lab invited festival visitors to pause, notice what needed care and turn their observations into words and prints. I co-developed the participatory environment and its stations, combining physical prototypes, prompt cards and shared worktables. Listening, labelling and printmaking offered different ways into the same question. The resulting prints became a collective visual record within the festival space.

Visitors gathered around a worktable with printing blocks, rollers and coloured inks

Gina operating the hand printing press at Care Lab

Gina Marín: co-development, installation design and facilitation. Programme participants include Werner Fütterer, Kaethe Wenzel, Sarah Philipp, Mads Hobye and Abdul Halim Bin Abdul Rahman. Framework: RECRUIT&RETAIN, Interreg Deutschland-Danmark; collaborating universities, hospitals, nursing schools and students. Full credits online.

View full project & documentation ↗

Illutron

Independent support association · Copenhagen · Aug 2026-present

Vice Chair, Illutron Anchors · Community & Creative Projects

At Illutron, I connect creative communication with community activities, co-coordinating and promoting workshops and public programmes. My contributions include recruitment materials, the Meet & Build campaign and event communication. As Vice Chair of Illutron Anchors, the independent support association, I also work on membership initiatives and newsletters. These activities support the conditions for collective experimentation; artworks retain the authorship of their makers.

Illutron industrial barge illuminated at night in Copenhagen

Meet & Build poster inviting people to boat maintenance, shared learning and community activities

Community coordination and creative communication: Gina Marín. Collective: illutron Interactive Art Collective. Independent support association: Illutron Anchors

View full project & documentation ↗

Blindmotion

Inclusive physical activities · Denmark · 2025-present

Inclusive activities, accessible learning & communication

I co-organise physical activities for blind and visually impaired participants and develop accessible learning materials for facilitators. Universal design principles inform practical decisions about participation. Visual and written communication, including event information and postcards, connects programme coordination with clear invitations for participants and partners. The work brings my experience in movement facilitation into accessible cultural and community practice.

Kayakers gathered on the water wearing orange Blind Kajak vests

Kayaking in Silkeborg · Photography: Per Bille

Inclusive activities, accessible learning and communication: Gina Marín. Organisation: Blindmotion. Silkeborg kayaking photographs: Per Bille

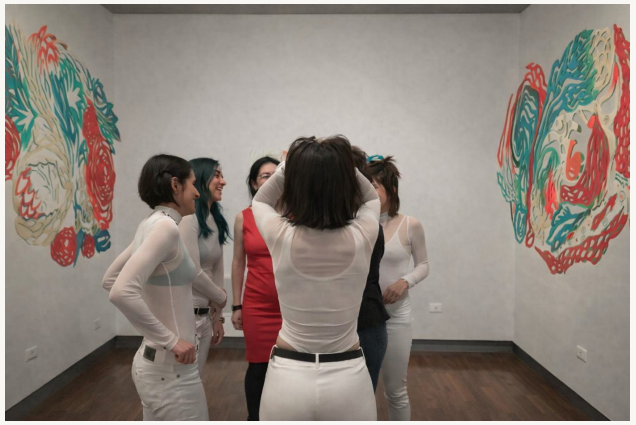

View full project & documentation ↗

They Do Not Save Life, Nor Sustain the Soul

Garín Space · Córdoba, Argentina · 2019

Curator, organiser & exhibiting artist

This collective exhibition brought installation, individual artworks, live music and a creativity workshop together at Casa de Pepino in Córdoba. I curated and organised the exhibition, secured sponsors and contributed as an installation artist within Atmosphere Collective. My work connected the placement and relationships of artworks with communication, public programming and the practical support needed to bring the exhibition into public view.

Artists gathered between two colourful wall interventions during the exhibition opening

Visitor encountering translucent coloured garments suspended against the exhibition wall

Curation, organisation and sponsorship: Gina Marín. Participating artists: Paz Herrera, Nayra Vallejos, Florencia Aravena and Gina Marín. Presented by Espacio Garín at Casa de Pepino. Images document the collective exhibition.

View full project & documentation ↗

Atmosphere Collective

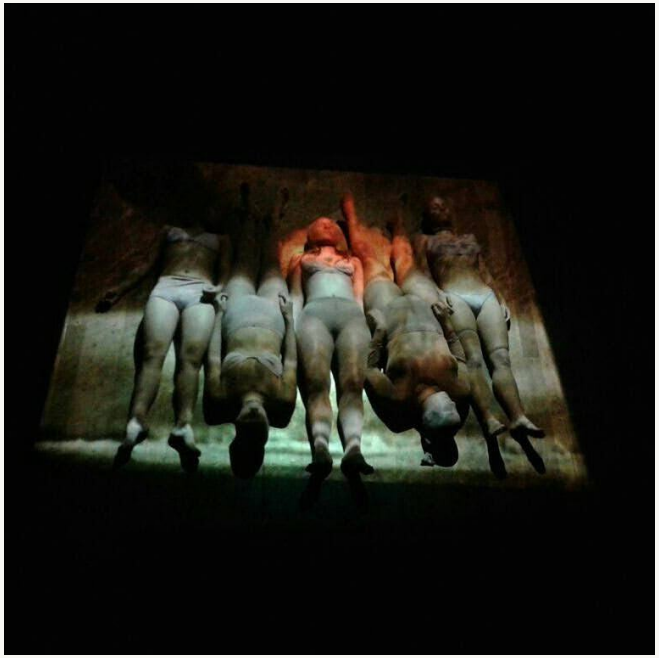

Córdoba, Argentina · 2018-2021

Artist & collective project collaborator

Atmosphere was an artist-led collective in Córdoba, bringing individual practices together through exhibitions, performances and live painting. I contributed as an artist and collaborator, connecting making with shared preparation, coordination and communication. The collective provided a context for projects including Modus Androginus, Yellow Poison Land and They Do Not Save Life, Nor Sustain the Soul.

Four members of Atmosphere Collective together

Projected imagery across a group of performers

Collective artists: Paz Herrera, Nayra Vallejos, Florencia Aravena and Gina Marín. Live-event collaboration: Umbrality

View full project & documentation ↗

Women and LGTBIQ+ Altar #LivesInStruggle

CCK · Buenos Aires · 2020-2021

Collaborating research artist & audiovisual content producer

Altar brings portraits, biographies and QR links together in a collective archive of women and LGBTI+ lives. Initiated by Silvia Barrios, the project connects research with public exhibitions. I contributed as a collaborating research artist and audiovisual content producer to its 2020 CCK edition, helping connect the shared archive with images and moving-image documentation.

Visitors moving through hanging portraits, QR linked biographies and living plants at the CCK opening

Altar · Collective biography cards and QR-linked research.

Concept and artistic direction: Silvia Barrios. CCK curatorship: Kekena Corvalán. Research and audiovisual contribution: Gina Marín, within the artist-researcher collective. Full collective credits online.

View full project & documentation ↗

Trace at The Great Glass

Fundación El Gran Vidrio · Córdoba, Argentina · 2020 · Exhibition proposal

Project Lead · Art Direction · Communication

For this exhibition proposal, I developed curatorial research, an artwork register, spatial planning and visual communication. A proposed route organised 38 works by Guillermo Kuitca, Leticia Obeid, León Ferrari and Mariano Sardón around mapping, writing, touch and interactive media. Floor plans and elevations translated the concept into requirements for mounting, screens and projection. These documents describe a proposal, not a realised exhibition.

Three-panel curatorial brochure prepared for the Traza exhibition proposal at El Gran Vidrio

Venue archive · El Gran Vidrio · Ojo de Cabra, Nina Kovensky · Not documentation of the Traza proposal

View full project & documentation ↗

Trifolium / Impact Festival

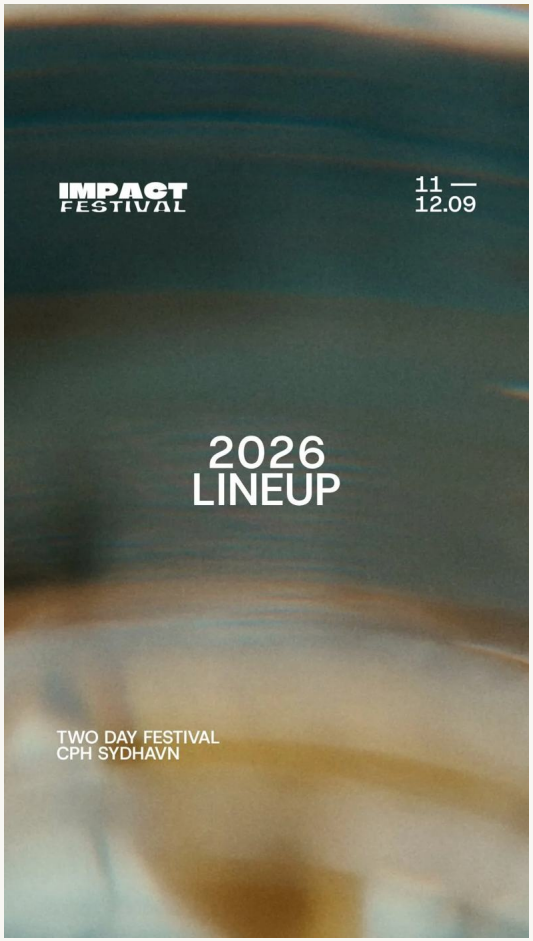

Impact Festival · Copenhagen · 2026

Event production & operations support

I supported production and operations for the two-day Impact Festival at Trifolium in Copenhagen. My contribution included event preparation, coordination and on-site activities, helping the programme take place through practical work with the organising team.

Impact Festival conversation at Trifolium in Copenhagen

Impact Festival 2026 programme announcement

Event production and operations support: Gina Marín. Organiser: Forening Impact, Sydhavnen. Venue: Trifolium, Copenhagen

View full project & documentation ↗

Enter Art Fair

International art fair · Copenhagen · 2026

Event & VIP experience coordination

I supported fair operations and VIP guest experiences during an Enter Art Fair visit to Louisiana Museum of Modern Art. My contribution focused on guest coordination, logistics and transportation, supporting the practical conditions for a welcoming cultural experience.

Visitors viewing contemporary sculpture and painting at Enter Art Fair | Photography: Julie Nymann

Visitor guidance near an installation at Enter Art Fair

Event and VIP experience coordination: Gina Marín. Organiser: Enter Art Fair / World Fairs ApS. Header photography: Julie Nymann

View full project & documentation ↗

03

Design & Communication

3 projects

I translate a project's purpose into visual and written communication that people can recognise and understand. My work includes identity guidelines, editorial layouts, campaign materials, website content and audiovisual editing. I develop a consistent language across formats, adapting it to the audience and the information they need.

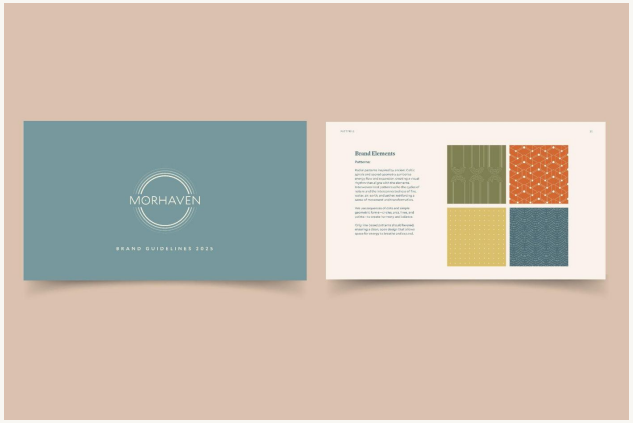

This can mean expressing a brand's character through colour and pattern, as in Morhaven, or creating invitations and recruitment materials for Illutron. Communication is part of how a project meets its public and makes participation possible.

Morhaven Retreats

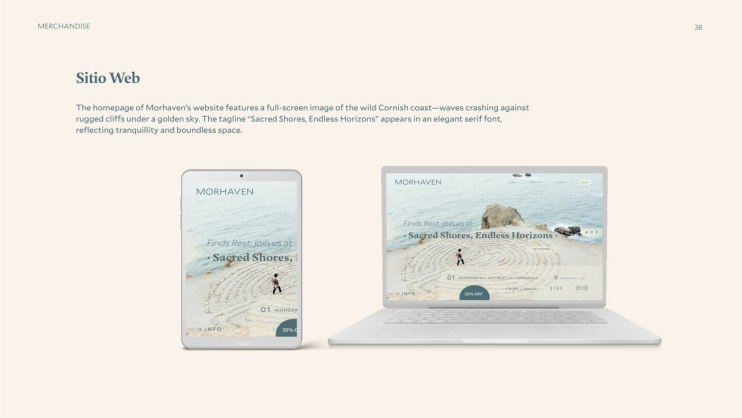

Cornwall · 2024

Brand identity · brand strategy · marketing direction

I developed the identity, brand catalogue and marketing strategy for a retreat concept in Cornwall. Circles, elemental symbols and coastal references connect its positioning with a visual language for print and digital communication. The work spans logo, typography, colour, graphic elements and photography direction. The catalogue and application studies show how the system could support a consistent public presence; mockups illustrate proposed uses.

Morhaven · Brand catalogue mockup

Website concept | Proposed desktop and mobile applications

Brand identity, strategy and marketing direction: Gina Marín. Client: Morhaven Retreats

View full project & documentation ↗

EMUN

Argentina · 2022

Brand identity · print materials · brand applications

For an electrical and lighting company, I developed an identity connecting energy, light and the letter E through a modular symbol. Logo, colour and typography extend into visual modules, catalogue direction and social media templates. Uniform and vehicle applications demonstrate how the system can carry a consistent identity across different contexts.

EMUN catalogue cover using the yellow electrical symbol and blue wordmark

EMUN logo concept connecting electricity and light

Brand identity, print materials and applications: Gina Marín. Client: EMUN

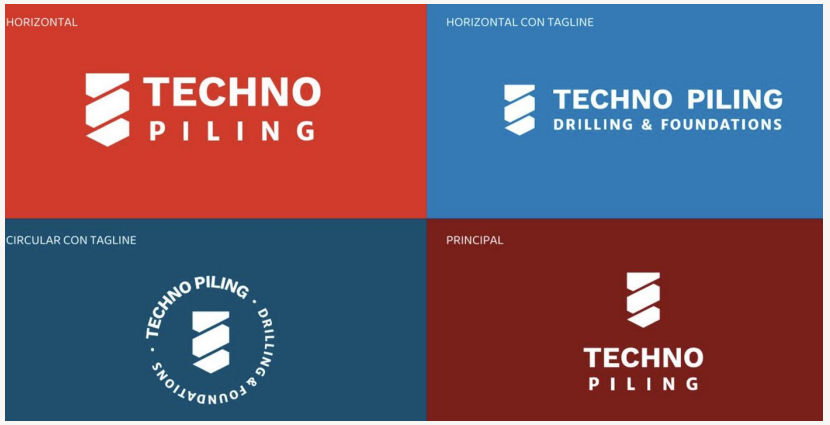

View full project & documentation ↗

Techno Piling

Canada · 2023

Brand identity · brand applications · social media

I developed brand repositioning, identity guidelines and visual applications for Techno Piling, alongside weekly social communication. The work connects a consistent visual system with recurring public-facing content, adapting the identity to different formats and communication needs.

Four Techno Piling logo variations in white on red and blue backgrounds

Techno Piling logo system

Brand identity, applications and social communication: Gina Marín. Client: Techno Piling

View full project & documentation ↗

Background & contact

EDUCATION

2025 | MA in Visual Arts and Digital Media, Universidad Nacional de Córdoba.

2020 | Bachelor’s Degree in Visual Arts, Universidad Nacional de Córdoba.

2015 | Industrial Design and Technical Drawing Studies, Universidad Nacional de Córdoba.

PRACTICE & TOOLS

Drawing, printmaking, installation, performance, curatorial writing, visual identity, editorial design, audiovisual editing, workshop facilitation and project coordination. Adobe Photoshop, InDesign and Illustrator; p5.js and AI-assisted creative coding.

Spanish (native); English (fluent); Italian and Portuguese (conversational); Danish (developing).

SELECTED EXPERIENCE

2026-present | Vice Chair, Illutron Anchors; community coordination and creative communication.

2025-present | Blindmotion: inclusive activities and accessible learning materials.

2019-present | Freelance visual communication: identity, editorial and digital content.

2018-2023 | Exhibition production and art handling in a university arts environment.

2017-2023 | Freelance video art and visuals for cultural and performance projects.

2014-2023 | Movement, mindfulness and embodied learning facilitation.

ginamicam@gmail.com

+45 50 36 62 64 | Copenhagen, Denmark

Full CV & online archive ↗